THE NORTHWEST DANCE PROJECT HAS AN IMMEDIATE OPENING FOR A MALE DANCER FOR OUR 2010 - 2011 SEASON

The Northwest Dance Project based in Portland OR has established itself as a bold and innovative contemporary ballet company performing an all-original repertoire from an eclectic roster of accomplished choreographers.

Our current repertoire includes original works by Aszure Barton, James Canfield, Lucas Crandall, Andrea Miller, Alejandro Cerrudo, Sarah Slipper, Luca Veggetti, Benoit-Swan Pouffer, Wen Wei Wang, Maurice Causey, Edgar Zendejas and Cayetano Soto.

The 2010 - 2011 season will include new works from Didy Veldman, Sarah Slipper, Lucas Crandall, Wen Wei Wang, Loni Landon, Ihsan Rustem, André Mesquita, Olivier Wevers and James Gregg.

We are looking for dancers with a strong classical and contemporary background with professional performance experience. Potential candidates will be asked to come to Portland to take class and spend some time working in the studio on our repertoire. Please expect to stay one to two days for the audition.

Dancers must be at least 20 years old and legally eligible to work in US.

Those interested should send/email a résumé, dance photo and DVD, or an online link of you dancing in contemporary work (solo work is best). Video footage should also show improvisation in the studio (not to exceed 3 minutes) and also include at least one performance piece. If sending group work, please explain in the letter who to watch for. Please do not send classroom work!
